STAR'S WEEKLY WAR RESUME SCINTILLATES WITH CHEERFUL NEWS FROM WAR TERRITORY

Following closely in the wake of the sinking of the transport Royal Edward last week and the loss of 970 British soldiers and the torpedoing of the White Star liner Arabic, the allied fleets seem to have demonstrated beyond a question of a doubt that Great Britain and her allies will not let such disasters as that of the Royal Edward pass unchallenged. As a result the week opened perhaps more auspiciously for the Allies than at any time since the war started.

News of the two opening days of the week contained detailed reports of the loss of one dreadnought, two cruisers, nine destroyers and five transports of the enemies of Great Britain.

The Russian fleet after an inactivity that was almost beginning to pall made up for lost time and more than redeemed itself by engaging the Germans in a desperate battle in the Gulf of Riga and sinking two battle cruisers and seven torpedo boats. In addition the Russian destroyers in the Black Sea have sunk over 100 Turkish boats since war was declared with the Ottoman empire.

A British submarine operating in the Baltic sea successfully torpedoed the big German cruiser, Moltke.

Two French torpedo boats encountered and sank a German torpedo boat off Ostend, Belgium.

Following the French activity off Ostend thirty-four British vessels appeared off Zeebrugge and gave the German defenders a merry three hours after a spirited surprise attack. While the French vessels were thus engaged two British and three German aviators engaged in an air duel in which the former came off victors.

The Germans tried to land four barges crammed with soldiers on the east shore of the Gulf of Riga. Without the aid of artillery the Russian troops exterminated the Prussians, capturing the barges. Flight Lieutenant Evans of the British aviation corps appeared over the Dardanelles and sighted a Turkish transport laden with troops. Lieut. Evans exploded a bomb on the deck of the transport, splitting the ship, which sank immediately. The troops aboard are believed to have been drowned.

Throughout all their encounters in and around the Gulf of Riga and the Black Sea, the Russians lost only one cruiser to the enemy, an antiquated cruiser which was nearing the period of superannuation.

Opening Of Schools To Be Accompanied With Ceremony On Monday

The opening of the Wainwright schools on Monday morning next will be accompanied with ceremony, for arrangements are now being made for a formal hoisting of the flag by Mrs. H. W. McLeod wife of the chairman of the board and for the delivery of addresses by Mrs. McLeod and local clergy. In addition to this, medals provided by the school board, will be presented to the successful scholars for attendance and those who won honors in the recent departmental examinations. The names cannot be given at this writing owing to the absence of a complete list. It is also possible that there will be a grand march part of the girl guides and cadets. Pupils and others taking part will assemble at the school grounds at 9 o'clock in the morning.

VISITED BY PUPILS

Boys and girls of Grades 4 and 5 of the local school, in consequence of the marriage of their former teacher Miss Bremner to Mr. Sherman D. Mills, paid the happy couple a visit at their home on King street on Monday evening, giving Mr. and Mrs. Mills a real good old time "Kitchen Shower". As a token of their well wishes, the boys and girls also read an appropriate address the preparation of which had been coupled with much time and thought.

Bud Simmerman left for Calgary on Tuesday there to purchase another car load of horses which will be placed on sale Monday.

J. McCann completed the cutting of forty acres of wheat and oats on Monday of this week. Mr. McCann says his wheat yield will be well in the neighborhood of 30 bushels to the acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman E. Mills have returned to Wainwright, the happy event having taken place in Edmonton on Wednesday of last week. All friends of the newly married couple are wishing them happiness.

P. E. Ross has returned from Edmonton after competing in the Alberta Tennis Tournament held in the capital last week. Mr. Ross is fairly well pleased with the showing he made against strong competition and at times handicapped, he having won 2 matches and lost three.

A great many of the farmers are still unaware of the fact that Wainwright now has one of the most complete and up-to-date tinshops in the northwest. Every farmer is urged to get in touch with Mr. Fish who is very capable of handling every line of work needed.—a

THOMAS CRAMPTON TELLS OF DOINGS OF MOUNTED RIFLES

All the Wainwright boys who are members of the Alberta Mounted Rifles are feeling fine according to a letter received by H. Crampton from his brother, Corporal Thomas Crampton. At the time of writing the Mounted Rifles were stationed at Shorncliffe and Corporal Crampton also tells of a review recently conducted which, unfortunately, was marred by inclement weather.

Writing of this he states: "At 4:30 we started the march—when the rain ceased a little. Bonar Law came down to see the inspection and stood at the saluting point as we marched past in line about 30,000 troops strong. It was grand. We went swinging along soaking wet, the rain dripping from our rifles and caps, slish slosh through about 6 inches of water. It too, was a fine sight to see the Scotch Canadians in their kilts as they marched to the music of 'The Cock of the North'. It made me feel proud to belong to Canada."

Miss Laura Peterson is visiting friends in Calgary.

TWINE SHORTAGE IS EXPERIENCED

An apparent shortage of binder twine exists and although the shortage is not likely to result in serious consequences, the lack of its immediate provision is bound to prove an impediment to the farmers in their harvesting operations. Two car loads of twine were received by Bisson and Son on Friday and on Monday not a stitch of it remained in the warehouse. Twine has also been handled by S. Lowthwaite, whose stock was also soon depleted. It is said that a further carload is expected to arrive soon for Messrs Bisson and Son.

PICNIC WILL BE HELD AT LAKE ON LABOR DAY

Arrangements are now being made for the holding of a picnic at the lake on Lee Wells' place on Labor Day, September 6th. The function will be one for everybody with everything free. All intending visitors, however, should take along their baskets. Mr. Wells will make preparations for a dance which will be held in the large barn during the evening.

One object of the picnic is to bring to the attention of the people of Wainwright that in the lake on Mr. Wells' property, they have as good a sheet of water and beaches, as those of Clear Lake. There will be boats on the water and everything possible will be done to ensure a good time.

The feature of the game was the performance of Captain Siddall of the Wainwright team who made five hits including a home run in five times at bat. The game for the Dawson Cup will be held on Fair Day, Sept. 10th.

BELIEF IS THAT BOYS HAVE BEEN SENT TO FRANCE

Conclusion To This Effect Is Strengthened By Tone Of Recent Letters

Although no definite information to the effect has been received either in press dispatches or by other means it is the opinion of Wainwright persons who have relatives and friends in the ranks of the 49th Battalion and the Alberta Mounted Rifles, recently stationed at Shorncliffe, that the boys have now been removed to other destinations. This conclusion they have based on the presumption entertained by the boys in recent letters, that they were about to be transferred from their Shorncliffe headquarters. The conclusion is also strengthened by a report which appeared in the papers several days ago which stated that 45,000 Canadians had been removed to France. There was this number of Canadians stationed at Shorncliffe.

Alf, Cooke will leave on Thursday for Peterson, on the St. Albert line, where he will be stationed.

A bonspiel in the winter is perfectly in order. What about a tennis tournament in the summer?

Rev. Thos. Murphy returned to Wainwright on Tuesday after visiting Chauvin where he conducted church services.

HORSE RACES AND BASEBALL WILL BE SPORT FEATURES AT WAINWRIGHT EXHIBITION

VOTERS' LIST HAS BEEN PREPARED

The voters' list of 1915 has now been prepared by Town Secretary Kenny. With it, provisions are given of the act relative to the voters' list a portion of which reads: "Any person who has been continuously resident in the town in the then current year prior to the first day of July and who is otherwise duly qualified but whose name is put down in error or whose name has been omitted from the last revised assessment roll, may, either by himself or his agent, apply to have the voters list amended by giving the secretary-treasurer notice."

HUNTERS SHOULD BE WELL ADVISED OF SEASON'S OPENING

The open season for duck shooting commences on Sept. 1st and the open season for shooting prairie chicken and partridge opens on Oct. 1st. Hunters would be well advised to take note of these dates and govern themselves accordingly. It is necessary for hunters to secure a game license before hunting or shooting game birds. It is necessary to carry license and to wear button while hunting. The fee for resident's bird game license is $2.25.

SPEAKS OF CROPS

A Gilt Edge farmer who was a business visitor in Wainwright on Monday, told of the exceptional crops of wheat and oats seen on all sides in the course of his ride to town. He described the season to have been an ideal one, it being greeted with lots of moisture as the result of the heavy snow-fall, and then followed with bright spring sunshine, and later and at a time needed, with a copious rainfall. All this was crowned with the good effects of a harvest-ripening sun.

Mrs. Coleman and daughter Marion left last week for Winnipeg, where they intend to spend a couple of weeks, at the Fall Millinery Openings.

A post card has been received from Private Neville Jones which was addressed from Shorncliffe on July 12th. The card states that at that time all the Wainwright boys were in good health and spirits.

A dance was held in the Elite theatre on Friday evening of last week. The event was an enjoyable one to those in attendance. Miss Ethel Mohr presided at the piano.

S. R. Bowerman of this town, has been appointed agent for the Canada Atlantic Grain Company on behalf of which concern he will solicit business from the farmers of this district.

E. W. H. Blake, B. A., barrister, of Toronto, and R. O. McCulloch, of the firm of Goldie, & McCulloch, safe manufacturers of Galt, Ont., have been elected directors of The Union Bank of Canada to replace the late E. E. A. DuVernet, K. C., Toronto, and late Hon. Senator S. Barker, K. C., of Hamilton.

Imbued with enthusiasm caused by the success of the fine program of horse races held in Wainwright on July 12th last, directors of the Wainwright Agricultural Society at their meeting held on Saturday afternoon last, appropriated $400 for horse racing events for the fall fair to be held at the Exhibition grounds on September 10th. In addition to this, a sum of $100 was allocated as prizes for two ball games to be held on the afternoon of the same day.

No stone is to be left unturned to make this year's fall fair an outstanding event and directors and committees are at present busily engaged in perfecting arrangements toward this end. To aid Secretary Devo Hansen in his work, it is particularly requested that all entries be made prior to 6 o'clock on the evening of the 9th. The co-operation of all exhibitors is asked, for with this, much can be accomplished without either hitch or delay.

Attractive advertising bills have just left The STAR's press and these are now broadly circulated not only in this district but in Edmonton, Calgary and other large centres. Every Wainwright and district resident is asked to boost for the fall fair.

The honors for the best field of grain in the district which were judged by a provincial government official last week, will be announced from the grand stand on the afternoon of September 10th. Competing farmers are asked to make a note of this.

Not only is the growing of Alfalfa possible in the Wainwright district but it can be grown with every success. J. Forsyth returned to town this morning bringing with him a sample of winter proof Siberian Alfalfa, grown on the farm of George Babb and on a parallel in quality with the Alfalfa one reads about.

Binders Hum Merry Tune To Song Of Harvest Time; Cutting Is Now General

Such an animated appearance in the vicinity of the various implement warehouses at the beginning of the week and the merry hum of the binder now to be heard at all points within the Wainwright district, tell a good story of harvest time. Cutting at all points is now general and the farmers with their plentiful supply of help are busy from early morning until sunset. These farmers have commenced their work on the largest crops in the history of the district for it is estimated that an average fully fifty per cent larger than that of 1914 was placed under cultivation during the present year.

As regards the yield, it is said by farmers that the drop of wheat will average well in the neighborhood of forty bushels and oats in the vicinity of seventy.

With eight binders working, the Wood Wainwright Company started operations to day on a crop that covers almost

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

At the recent Pie and Candy making Competition, the prize of $3 was awarded to the holder of No. 22 ticket. All the pies sent in were of such an excellent quality that it was somewhat difficult for us to come to a decision. We wish, however, to say, that we formed our judgment with unbiased minds, being entirely ignorant of the names of the owners. In the matter of the candy competition, there being but one entry the prize was not awarded. Thinking this information will be of general interest, we will be glad if you will publish this letter.

two thousand acres in extent. Of this, about 300 acres are covered with beautiful wheat and the balance, for the most part, in oats. Willard Moffat, who has charge of the operations, stated to day that with the continuance of favorable conditions, the binders would be kept busy until their work is completed.

PRODUCTIVENESS OF WAINWRIGHT SOIL EVIDENCED

The general productiveness of the soil surrounding Wainwright is evidenced daily and in no district of the west can settlers be found who evince more satisfaction as the result of their endeavors than to farmers of the territory immediately surrounding this town.

Vegetables of all kinds and each and every specie of the best quality have been brought into the STAR office during the present season and cauliflower, beans and peas of an exceptional order have been no exception to the rule. The latest sample of produce to enter The STAR office took the form of red and black currants which were placed on exhibition by Mrs. J. F. Adamson of Greenshields.

The excellence of the exhibit has formed the topic of conversation by all who have seen it, the currants being no less than two inches in circumference. Mrs. Adamson has not been growing the fruit very long and states that each succeeding year finds it larger and of a better quality.

At the present time there is on exhibition in the STAR office window a sample of oats that without the roots measure 5 feet 11 inches in height. The seed was sown by H. P. Jackson of Greenshields on fall breaking which, according to Mr. Jackson, goes to prove that land broken in the fall will be conducive to as good results as that broken earlier in the year.

WHY GREAT BRITAIN OCCUPIES THE FOREMOST POSITION IN THE WAR

ON DIFFERENT FOOTING THAN OTHER NATIONS

The Influence Which Drew Russia and France into the Conflict Were Irresistible, but Britain was not Immediately Involved

It is a fact as measurable as it is remarkable, that the British Empire is connected with the immediate causes which precipitated the war, and that the British Empire has been the theatre of the greatest prominence in the struggle. The territory in which the war has been fought is British territory and the number of men that Great Britain actually has engaged is more than that of any other ally, such as the United States or France, yet, somehow the conviction has forced itself home upon the British people that they have not really as much at stake in this great conflict than either of her allies, and that they are not to share the same duties and responsibilities of the war as rest upon the British people. This thought is fostered by the fact that the British are not to share the same responsibilities with acquiescence from all sides in the final analysis the task of defeating Germany will be left to the British.

The very flower of the whole Prussian army is in the hands of the British, and it is a compass that end—but in vain, like "very Nemesis" on his track, British troops will be sent to the aid of the British fighting spirit will pursue the quarry to the end, the British forces will be sent to the aid of the British standards of honor will impress upon the Prussian autocracy, in terms that will be understood, that the British people signs her name to a scrap of paper, she pledges the national honor, she pledges the life of the British fighting aids, whatever the cost. The effectiveness of the assistance which the British people has given to the allies, has done much to make the Germans particularly vindictive in their attitude towards the British.

The principles, in defence of which Great Britain entered the war placed France's main ally, Italy's last, but the two nations were not united in casting about for possible reasons why the original order of the proposed coalition might have been in this struggle, should have been nation first, Germany second, and France last, long which present themselves.

Germany's attitude toward self-compliance received a heavy blow when Great Britain refused point-blank to accept the German proposal of the proposed violation of Belgian neutrality upon which the Kaiser and his associates suddenly discovered that the two nations were not united.

Other nations involved. The influence of Great Britain and France into the conflict were irresistible. The standpoint of national interests, but Germany's attitude toward the world in those matters. Had Germany been able to make a deal with the world according with her pledged word, the attitude of Great Britain would have been different. The Kaiser's attitude toward the world to war to redeem her pledged word, the Kaiser's attitude toward the world to stand for a principle which it is self is invincible and a principle which it is invincible could not exist. The German rulers could not exist.

ditional obligations. That treaty which the Prussians had schooled themselves to consider but a scrap of paper

In the estimation of Great Britain to constitute a solemn obligation whose inevitably must be preserved as an ally of Great Britain and France against the honor. That Great Britain should even go the length of declaring war in 1914, without having first completed signing a treaty to protect and to preserve the British Empire, is a historic calculation which the Germans had made, based on an elaborate estimate of the strength of the British Empire of Great Britain arraying herself with the allies against Germany. This was a miscalculation, for the British Empire against Great Britain, but does not provide a sufficient basis for the policy of aggression which the British people have been singled out for special consideration in the opinion of the German's enemies. Great Britain should step up to the most prominent position in the world.

The effective part played by the British army and the British navy during the war of 1914-1918 was undoubtedly very gallant to the British people, but the British fleet, the British fleet, opportunely mobilized for review purposes, moved quickly to the North Sea, and the British position at the two points of access for the German fleet, thus locking up

[illegible]

This is it which accounts for the prominent position which Great Britain occupied in the struggle. The programme which Germany planned to carry out in two parts, had been precipitated in one great struggle with the British Empire, and had been successfully. Consequently, because of the participation of Great Britain, Germany finds herself face ern front, the ever growing British force; gathered from all parts of the empire has constituted the key to the elaborate preparation and the whole brunt of her frothing hatred is borne upon the one nation above all other

Immigration Law Tightened

Government Decides That Immigrants Must Have Certain Sum of Money

An order-in-council has been passed providing that no immigrant other than the member of a family shall be permitted to enter Canada between March 1 and October 31, unless he can show that he has at least $100 in cash or other liquid assets.

the family must live in his possession $25 for each member of the family upwards of 18 years of age and not less than $10 for each child under that age. Immigrants seeking to enter Canada between November 1 and the end of February will be subject to the same conditions except that the amount per head necessary to have will be $50 instead of $25. The following are the conditions of the general regulations provided for in the order in council:

Fruits and vegetables grown under glass in the novel construction, according to Prof. H. J. Macdonald, have found advance about twice as fast as the same things planted simultaneously in the open air. The yield of the plants obtained from forty to one hundred per cent. greater size.

WAINWRIGHT ALTA., WEDNESDAY, AUG. 25th. 1915

BETTER NEWS IS IN STORE FOR ALLIED FORCES.

ITALY DECLARES WAR ON TURKEY—British submarine sinks German cruiser in the Baltic—Lepand arrives—Russians drive German fleet from Gulf of Riga with loss to the Germans of a battle cruiser, three cruisers and seven torpedo boats. Such is the news in brief that we received on Monday last. It came at a time when the spirits of the people of this country, of England and France as well, were somewhat retarded in their optimism as a consequence to the many reverses that the Russians had met as a result of the German drive past Warsaw and on to Petrograd.

Although it cannot be said with certainty, there is every reason to believe that the news to be received by us from now onward will be such as to brighten the hearts of the most despondent Italy joining in the war with Britain against Turkey will mean the addition of an added weapon of fighting force in freeing the Dardanelles which right up until this time, has proven itself to be a task of arduous proportion.

And what is more, the news came to us the other day which told of the construction by Britain of a new 17 inch gun that will revolutionize operations in artillery. We have been wondering during the past few weeks the reason for the tranquillity of the operations on the western front and here we have the reason for the delayed British advance. For the completion of this gun Kitchener has just been waiting. He will now launch his big surprise, which, it is believed, will make the Allies' path to Berlin more possible than ever before.

So far as Britain is concerned, it may be safely said that she was never in a better position for an advance. Indeed, we may expect some news soon and the news we will receive will be of the same style as that which appeared in the city dailies on Monday. It will tell of British and Allied victories in the west and a change of circumstances in the east. It will possibly tell of more sea victories, for the STAR believes that during the next two weeks, fighting on both land and sea will be the most desperate yet chronicled. This prediction the STAR bases on the trend of the news received during the past few days.

THE POULTRY BREEDERS' OPPORTUNITY

CANADA IN PAST YEARS has imported more poultry and more eggs than she has exported. Yet her production has materially increased, but it has failed to keep pace with the consumption. In twenty years the egg production developed from 64,490,241 dozen to 123,071,034 dozen, but the consumption increased from 11.8 per capita to 17.39. That is to say the individual fondness for eggs had increased over fifty per cent. The population grew in those twenty years, or from 1891 to 1911, according to the census, from 4,833,239 to 7,304,838, an increase of 2,371,599, and the egg production mounted up 58,571,793 dozen. In spite of this fact, and although the exports fell about to zero 2,378,840 dozen had to be imported. In the same time the number of poultry in Canada grew from 12,096,701 to 29,548,728. Here again, although the increase was close upon thirteen million, the imports exceeded the exports in value to the amount of $111,000.

Last year, the excess of imports of eggs over exports reached the virtually enormous total of 11,150,108 dozen, while of poultry in 1914 we exported in value $206,370, but we imported $408,366, a difference against us of $199,996. These figures, striking as they are, and almost impossible as they seem, are yet official, being taken from Pamphlet No. 7, of the Poultry Division, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, entitled, "The Egg and Poultry Situation in Canada," with notes upon the possible effect of the war upon the Development of the Industry," by W. A. Brown, B.S.A., M.S., and can be verified on application for the pamphlet to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

The statistics given in the pamphlet are both phenomenal and interesting. No other articles of food have shown such an increase in popularity. At the same time prices generally have increased and been well sustained. Mr. Brown does not undertake to explain the phenomena, but contents himself with proving that it is so and that the increase in every particular is common to all the provinces. He also gives particulars of imports of poultry into Great Britain, which in 1913 amounted in value to $5,411,084, of which Russia supplied $1,610,923, the United States $999,890, Austria-Hungary $470, 787, Italy $410,902, China $310,472, Egypt $130,300, Holland $121, 739, Belgium $108,268, Norway $68,000, Germany $58,005 and Canada, seemingly, nil.

From the foregoing figures and the general condition of things in Europe, Mr. Brown arrives at the conclusion that Britain will this year be short of eggs and poultry to the amount of a million and a half of dollars, or of eggs alone to the sum of one hundred million dozen. Every Canadian producer should endeavor, therefore, to produce this year more and better eggs and poultry than ever before.

THE WAR AND CANADA'S TRADE.

FOR THE FIRST FOUR MONTHS of the present fiscal year, Canada's trade, exclusive of bullion imports and exports, amounted to $305,303,093, while for the corresponding months of the last fiscal year it was $302,962,815, a small increase, but a wonderful showing when taken into consideration that the first four months of the last fiscal year were before the outbreak of war and trade disruption and depression. Now, during a war period, our total trade is greater than in the corresponding period before the clash of arms in August last.

The figures as presented in the preceding paragraph point but one way and this to the effect that the war has changed our trade conditions to greater export and fewer imports.
This means that during this year of war, Canada finds herself more self-reliant than ever before for she is manufacturing more for her own people and in addition is having a balance that she may send to other needy nations. Certainly the war is proving a good omen to Canada so far as her trade is concerned.

Profit-Sharing With Retail Buyers

On August 1, 1914 we made the announcement that if we could make and sell at retail 30,000 Ford cars between August 1, 1914 and August 1, 1915 we would share profits with the retail purchasers. We have sold only 18,774 Ford cars in the time specified and, therefore, are unable to share our profits with those who purchased Ford cars between the above date.

Our plan to profit-share with retail purchasers of Ford cars during 1914-15 was not successful due to conditions which we could not possibly foresee at the time we made our announcement last August. The war and the consequent unsettled conditions of business seriously affected our sales and increased our manufacturing costs so that during the last year we did not earn a profit required for the normal expansion of our business both in a manufacturing and service way.

However we still have confidence in our profit-sharing plan, but a realization of the uncertainty of conditions generally makes it advisable to defer any announcement of future profit-sharing until a later date.

We are, however, positive we cannot reduce costs for several months, and therefore can offer no profit-sharing for cars delivered during August, September and October, 1915.

CANADIAN WOOLLENS

Discrimination Against Home Made Cloths—A Misguided Policy

A few weeks ago the "Journal of Commerce" of Montreal, of which Hon. W. S. Fielding, the late Minister of Finance, is editor, spoke as follows in support of domestic woollen fabrics:

"A common complaint among textile manufacturers and agents in this country is the very apparent prejudice in favor of foreign fabrics, or the prevalent idea that foreign fabrics are necessarily superior to those produced by domestic manufacturers. This idea has been taught by a few in the trade who are interested in selling foreign goods, but no one who is at all conversant with the fabrics manufactured by many of our mills places any credence on such tales. Still, the prejudice continues and our mills are compelled to recognize it in considering the competition of foreign textile manufacturers.

"The fallacy was fostered years ago under the old tariff law with the United Kingdom, when practically all the woollens and worsteds imported were of a distinctly higher than average type, owing to the fact that the medium and low grade fabrics now coming into the country could not be imported profitably at that time. To assist in securing an unwarranted profit, some jobbers or merchant tailors placed foreign tickets on much of the better grade of their purchases from domestic sources, thereby creating in the minds of the ultimate consumers the false impression that all of the finer, high grade fabrics were of foreign origin.

"Comparison of fabrics from the standpoint of intrinsic worth, perfection of manufacture, style, color and finish, will convince the unprejudiced investigator that the domestic manufacturer has made wonderful progress in the development of the industry—that Canadian woollens and worsteds mills are as well equipped as those in any other country and are now producing fabrics which are fully equal to those manufactured abroad.
Much of the domestic product is probably still sold as of foreign manufacture. The custom still exists to mark Canadian goods as foreign, but merchants feel indignant when their attention is called to the fact that much of the goods on their shelves is domestic make. These same merchants are the ones who should lead the movement to break down this prejudice. It is working against their interests, as in most cases they are innocent of any attempt to hoodwink the consumer. They buy in good faith and as they believe that nothing good can be made in Canada in the way of woollen or worsted goods they make little effort to ascertain the true origin of the fabrics they buy. It is surely a question that deserves serious attention from both merchants and manufacturers, and should be dealt with accordingly."

While written before the war, the above statement is of special interest at the present time. Most of the foreign sources of supply of woollen goods are close to Canada today.
Canadians will, therefore, be forced to purchase the product of the domestic factories during the next few months at any rate. Their purchase of the Canadian article will be a striking object lesson and will convince the most skeptical that what is made in Canada is equal, value for value, to anything that can be produced abroad.

PRODUCTION PER ACRE

Field Crops and Conditions in Argentine Republic

The Argentine Republic farmer can have no quarrel with the Argentine Impeller manufacturer about the value of his binders because there are generally no manufacturers in the Argentine Republic.

All the implements the Argentine farmer uses are made in the United States or Canada, and the farmer in South America has to pay a tax on them in order to provide a national excuse, but the tax that he pays does not afford incidental protection for the home product.

The fact that there are no domestic manufacturers explains why the Argentine urban population is concentrated to practically two cities, Buenos Aires and Rosario, the former of which contains more people than Canada's six largest cities.

If Argentina had cultivated the home market she would now have possessed a number of medium sized cities in which there would be some manufacturing development. With the exception of the two cities referred to, the Argentine farmer has no market and exports his products in the shape of raw material to all the countries of the world, instead of having his fellow citizens put it through some of the processes of manufacture as is done in Canada and the United States.
